

Standards of Training in Gas Work

Gas Skills Training and Assessment

Information Sheet	IMPORTANT - This course was formerly known as ACOPS
Title	STGW 120 LPG Safety European Mobile Homes
Duration	5 days
Aims and Objectives	A training and assessment programme designed to clearly identify the skills and knowledge required by a competent person, to carry out installation, commission, service and repair of gas systems and appliances installed in mobile homes in France, Italy and Spain.
Scope	This programme is intended for experienced operatives working on gas systems and appliances currently found within mobile homes.
Pre-Requisites	Candidates must have completed a basic health and safety course and have knowledge of the gas systems and appliances found in mobile homes.
Training	The training programme will utilise our European mobile homes boats specific training manual (300+ pages) and encompass the following topics: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Gas Safety (Installation & Use) Regulations 1998• Fire safety actions• COSHH information• Properties and characteristics of LPG• Complete and incomplete combustion• Tightness testing procedures• Ventilation requirements• Open, closed and balanced flues• Gas storage• Appliances• Gas safety checks
Competence	The candidate's knowledge and understanding of the subject will be established by the application of a multi-choice theoretical question papers and completion of specified practical tasks.
Assessment	The assessment will be conducted by an assessor qualified to A1 or equivalent standard.
Verification	The assessment process will be verified by an internal verifier qualified to V1 or equivalent standard.
Certification	The programme will be certificated by LPG Training. A certificate of competence will be issued to successful candidates. Photo ID cards are available at extra cost.

Alternatively we can arrange certification through Logic Certification Ltd – A Certification Body accredited by UKAS as compliant with the requirements of BS EN ISO 17024. Please inform us of this preference at the time of order as this will involve additional time and cost.